Miners Trek Back to Pits Full Speed Tuesday

PRESIDENT'S TALK HAILED BY AMERICA

Roosevelt Bluntly Tells the World That Nation's War Effort Will Not Be Halted

LEWIS IS UNMENTIONED

Washington, May 3.—The coal mining crisis which threatened to stall America's war production drive was at least temporarily ended today as nearly 500,000 miners prepared to shoulder their tools and march back into the nation's pits—under the stars and stripes and a flag of truce.

During the next 15 days, Harold L. Ickes—Uncle Sam's new boss of the coal fields—will seek to settle the wage contract dispute between miners and operators.

The trek back to work begins today and tomorrow, with some miners acting on the appeal from President Roosevelt for an immediate return to their jobs and others taking their cue from John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, who set Tuesday for the official resumption.

There seemed no question but that Tuesday's shifts—at the very latest—would find the industry operating full blast again, keeping the nation's all-out war production fueled with coal.

The president appealed to the miners last night to go back to work for their country—literally, with the government—operating more than 3,850 mines—and cease "obstructing our war effort."

"I want to make it clear," he said, "that every American miner who has stopped mining coal—no matter how sincere his motives, no matter how legitimate he may believe his grievances to be—indirectly is obstructing our war effort."

Mr. Roosevelt did not mention Lewis by name but his appeal to the miners—whose full scale walk-out followed the latter's call not to "trespass" on company property without a contract—came just 20 minutes after the UMW chieftain had announced the truce in New York.

Lewis said the union's policy committee had voted unanimously to restore all mines for immediate operation for a period of 15 days beginning Tuesday.

He said the truce time will be spent in seeking to work out new contracts to replace those which have expired in the hard and soft coal industries.

Labor Secretary Frances Perkins said Fuel Administrator Ickes, picked by the president to govern operation of the mines for the government, would confer with the disputants during the 15-day decision and try to bring them together. She termed the truce "a wise decision" on the part of the UMW leaders.

The decision was made after Lewis and other leaders had conferred with Ickes during a Sunday trip here from New York, where the contract negotiations had been in progress. While in New York, Ickes had said (Turn to Page Seven)

Loan Is Over By Four Billion

Washington, May 3.—(P)—The second war loan drive brought in about $17,000,000,000, or around $4,000,000,000 more than the goal, and most of it came from non-banking sources.

The treasury expects to announce the final total about May 10. Banking houses were limited to $5,000,000,000 participation.

Secretary Morgenthau expressed satisfaction at the success of the drive, which ended at midnight Saturday, and at the same time served notice of even greater goals for future campaigns.

BROOKVILLE FLIER IS 'POINT SNORKER'

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, May 3.—(P)—One of the charter members of the "point snorkers" is Sgt. Phillip C. Croyle, of Brookville, Pa. "Point snorkers" must keep their mustaches well waxed, and carry with them an Algerian five-franc note. Failure to produce the note on demand of a fellow "snorker" costs the offender five francs to each "snorker" present. And the mustache may be removed only by order of the high command or by the return of the "snorker" to the United States.

If That's How It Is We'll Be Back Diggin' Coal Soon

By STEVEN WILLIAMS
Pittsburgh, May 3.—(P)—As the lights blinked off last night in the little "patch" homes that dot western Pennsylvania's hills, the men who dig war-vital coal chalked off another big strike and went to bed content.

Content because there had been word—the word they had hoped for—from a man in New York and another in Washington.

The man in New York, John L. Lewis, had announced that they could go back to work Tuesday for 15 days anyway.

And the one in Washington, Franklin D. Roosevelt, had told them in a broadcast from Washington how badly the nation needed the fuel they produced; and what hardship continued striking would bring their sons and brothers at war.

But more important, the nation's chief executive had made them feel he was talking to every miner on a man-to-man basis—the kind of talk a miner gives and like to get.

We sat around the radio in the tiny wood house of one miner in Liberty, Pa., while Mr. Roosevelt talked. When he referred to the men overseas, a tear slipped down the cheek of the miner's wife, and when he addressed his remarks to every coal digger, the miner looked proud.

When the president finished, the miner, still staring at the radio, said:

"By god, if that's how it is, we'll be back diggin' coal harder than ever. We'll be doin' it for the boys out there fighting—and for the U. S. A."

"Imagine the president of the United States comin' right out sayin' he is talkin' to every one of us."

"Why, he must of meant me!" His wife said.

"He's a wonderful president, he is."

This family group, as others throughout the region, had been cheered earlier when Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, had announced a truce was called for 15 days.

One miner was certain he expressed the view of all his friends when he said:

"Damn glad of it. We was feelin' bad about not workin' while our boys are gettin' killed. But we had to. We got to protect our own existence. We hope we get that contract now and don't have to have more trouble. If it wasn't for bein' at war, it would be different."

"That's good," said a Fayette county coal leader when apprised of the truce. "I felt all along they should go back right away."

The wife of another leader said: "I'm glad they're going back. We have a son in the service, and it makes a difference. This is no time to strike."

Several miners said there would be a lot of local meetings today—and not a few celebrations.

Point Values Cut On Many Items By OPA

Washington, May 3.—(P)—Lower ration point values for most canned fruit and vegetable juices are in effect today, and dried and dehydrated soups are off the ration list altogether.

In announcing a new scale of point values over the weekend the Office of Price Administration attributed the changes to slow sales of the effected commodities.

The cuts in juice points affect all popular fruit and tomato juices except pineapple juice, which went up from 13 to 17 points on the No. 2½ size can. Other sizes of pineapple juice cans were left unchanged.

Grape juice was reduced from 4 to 2 points a pint and from 8 to 3 a quart. Grapefruit and other citrus juices were decreased on the No. 2 size can from 4 to 3 points and on the 46 ounce can from 9 to 4. Tomato juice was cut on No. 2 can to 4 points.

Bill To Stop Gerrymanders

Washington, May 3.—(P)—Rep. Eberhardt (D-Pa.) today introduced a bill which would prohibit a state from redistricting its congressional districts or reapportioning its congressional representatives more than once in a ten-year census period.

"The purpose of the bill," he told the house, "is to prevent reapportionment by states under control of one party from making repeated reapportionments solely for the purpose of gerrymandering out of office representatives in congress from the other party."

"We all know this is now being perpetrated in Pennsylvania where redistricting was made last year, and the only purpose of repealing that redistricting and accomplishing another one is to rip out of office five Democratic members of congress."

Congress Planning Anti-Strike Legislation With Teeth In It

BY JACK BELL
Washington, May 3.—(P)—An anti-strike bill with teeth sharp enough to bite any labor leader who encourages a work stoppage in war industry seemed to be evolving in the senate today.

A burial ground for nearly two years of restrictive labor measures passed by the house, the senate gave signs of having been stirred by the coal mining excitement in a determination to take drastic action against labor leaders who induce workers to leave their jobs in the mines or war factories.

Senators had a bill before them

NAZI DRIVE FOR MEN IN ARMY RANKS

Drive For Total Mobilization Has Failed to Produce Man-Power Now Greatly Needed

APPROACH CAPTIVES

Stockholm, May 3.—(P)—The German high command, according to reports from usually trustworthy sources, is so pressed for men that it is now trying to raise an army of 300,000 to 500,000 among captured Russian soldiers and civilians in the occupied Baltic states under a former Soviet general now in Nazi hands.

The proposed force, it was said, would include only those "thought to be reliable from the Nazi point of view."

German reports indicated the Nazi drive for total mobilization of the Reich had failed to provide as much man-power as had been expected.

The Frankfurter Zeitung said the closing of stores, business houses, small workshops and restaurants in Germany "did not free as many workers for the armament industry as was at first thought possible."

The captured Russian general, Andrei A. Vlasov, who was taken prisoner by the Germans at Kiev early in the war, was said by reports reaching here to have "shown an inclination to talk business" after two interviews with Adolf Hitler, who persuaded him that the sole aim of the Nazis was to "free Russia of Stalin."

Meanwhile General Just, former military attaché at Kaunas, was reported to have asked for Lithuanian volunteers for the German army, but it was said that only a few had responded thus far to the appeal for a force to be used against Soviet Russia.

A scant 150 Lithuanians were reported to have paraded in a special review of "volunteers" before Hitler despite the fact that gestapo chief Heinrich Himmler instituted "stern measures" including the closing of the University at Kaunas, on March 16, to whip up the total.

Nazi attempts to raise fighting men for the Axis forces in neighboring Estonia has had "some success," the reports reaching here said.

Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi administrator of German-occupied territories in eastern Europe, was declared to be opposed to the (Turn to Page Seven)

Steel Payrolls On Big Week Will Take Hike

Washington, May 3.—(P)—Steel industry sources said today that War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt's order to put the industry on a compulsory 48-hour week would boost steel payrolls by $100,000,000 a year.

The increases would come from payment of time and a half wages for all hours worked above 40, a provision of the wage and hour law.

The industry sources, who decline use of their names, contended that while this would mean a pay hike for more than 500,000 steel workers it would neither increase steel production nor reduce labor requirements.

The industry, they said, already has been producing ingots for some time at the rate of more than 99 per cent of capacity with an average work-week of 41.6 hours for all employees.

McNutt's order, issued Saturday night, decreed establishment of a 48-hour work week by July 1 and forbade blast furnaces, steel works and rolling mills to hire any new workers after June 1 unless they are operating on a 48-hour schedule.

McNutt said the order would "enable not only a full use of existing facilities but release much manpower necessary for new facilities."

CONDEMN WHITE PAPER

Philadelphia, May 3.—(P)—Condemning Great Britain's 1939 Palestine white paper as "illegal, unjust and inhuman," delegates to the national conference for Palestine in a resolution adopted last night, urged the United States "to make representations to Great Britain forthwith to annul the document."

KISKA BADLY HIT

Washington, May 3.—(P)—American fliers bombed Japan's Aleutians base at Kiska 13 times on Saturday, the navy reported today, causing a heavy explosion at North Head, the mouth of Kiska harbor, setting several fires and damaging the airplane runway.

Murray Says No CIO Strike

Oakland, Calif., May 3.—(P)—Phillip Murray, president of the CIO, has reiterated his pledge that there will be no wartime work stoppages called by Congress of Industrial Organizations Unions.

Addressing representatives of the United Steel Workers of America from 11 western states yesterday, Murray said, "My friends, I'm going to tell you—and I tell you with all my heart and soul—I'm not going to break my no-strike pact with the president of the United States of America."

"I should not like to have it said about American labor that you or I leaned over the dying body of an American soldier and said, 'son, you wouldn't have been dying today had I done my job back home.'"

AUTO TRAFFIC DROPS

Harrisburg, May 3.—(P)—A drop of almost 60 per cent in the operation of passenger cars in Pennsylvania in February over the same period in 1942, while bus mileage jumped more than 100 per cent, was reported by the State Highways Department.

"Wake Up, Daddy"

Little Jimmy Boff, who can't quite understand why his father isn't up and working at the mines, tries to rouse John Boff, a conveyor loader at a struck Library, Pa., coal mine.

House Virtually Certain To Pass Pay-Go Bill Tuesday

Half or More of Ten Billion Tax Assessed Against Individuals To Be Wiped Out

LONG FIGHT ENDS

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY
Washington, May 3.—(P)—Four months of bitter party strife culminated today in a showdown on pay-as-you-go income taxation, and the house appeared bound to pass, by tomorrow night, a bill wiping out half or more of the $10,000,000,000 tax assets against 1942 individual incomes.

Any measure enacted is virtually certain to impose a 20 per cent withholding levy against the taxable parts of wages and salaries, effective July 1.

The climactic debate began with Republicans again arrayed behind the Ruml plan to skip a complete tax year, while Democrats countered with a proposition to erase about 50 per cent of $5,000,000,000 of the liabilities against last year's incomes.

William Fox Leaves Prison

Lewisburg, Pa., May 3.—(P)—William Fox, one-time multi-millionaire motion picture producer, was released today at 10 a. m. from the Northwestern Federal Penitentiary after serving five and one-half months of a year-and-a-half sentence on charges of conspiring to obstruct justice and defraud the United States in connection with his bankruptcy proceedings.

Warden William E. Hiatt said Fox was met by his wife and daughter who planned to drive him to New York City. The warden added that Fox was in "good shape physically." He wore the usual "seasonal suit" issued to all released prisoners.

State Legislature Starts Last Long Mile to Gavel's Fall

Harrisburg, May 3.—(P)—The last long legislative mile loomed in front of Pennsylvania's 1943 general assembly today with party squabbles almost forgotten in the shadows of pending inter-house scraps over major issues.

Although Republican leaders assured a final wind-up of the 18-week-old session this week, they predicted long hours for conference committees on senate and house differences with Governor Martin standing by as the last court of appeal for compromises.

Already apparently headed for conference committees are:

The house-approved cost-of-living bonus, for the state's 61,000 school teachers, which the senate cut from the house-approved figure of $25,000,000 to $23,000,000, and the senate-approved measure suspending civil service, for public employees for the duration, which a house committee amended to make effective the day the bill becomes law instead of the senate-suggested date of March 16, 1942.

House leaders who helped shape the teacher bonus bill warn they will not concur with senate reductions and have scheduled a conference (Turn to Page Two)

Harrisburg, May 3.—(P)—If Pennsylvania's general assembly winds up its work this week, it will be the briefest session in a decade. Not since the 1933 session— (Turn to Page Seven)

The Allied air forces, too, were comparatively idle, the communiqué reporting only the steady patrol of Axis positions and their communication routes in which three enemy planes were shot down and two United Nations aircraft lost.

In the first phase of their Tunisian all-front offensive, the Allies had cut the front down from 140 miles to 125, and had driven to within 20 miles of Bizerte in the north and about 20 miles from Tunis in the central Medjed-el-Bah sector.

Hill Posts Afford Bases For Artillery To Pound Mateur

By EDWARD KENNEDY

London, May 3.—(AP)—The Algiers radio said tonight that the Allies had captured Mateur, key highway junction 18 miles southwest of Bizerte and 34 northwest of Tunis. The broadcast, heard by the Associated Press, was not confirmed from other sources.

The Germans pulled out of northern Tunisian positions today after a pounding of almost two weeks and the Allies swept forward to within 15 miles of Bizerte.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, May 3.—(AP)—United States and French troops occupied a group of hills 12 miles northeast of Mateur yesterday even while a lull was developing over most of the Tunisian front after two weeks of battle which has left both Allied and Axis forces spent and suffering from heavy losses.

The enemy appeared to have suffered the more, for French detachments and forward units of the Second U. S. Army Corps drove yesterday to the ridges known as Kef Rdjal Touila to tighten the pressure upon Mateur and Bizerte.

The hills are about four miles west of Lake Achkel, along the eastern shore of which runs the 18-mile highway linking Mateur and the naval base. Col. Gen. Jurgen von Arnim was reported withdrawing his advanced units in that region as a result of the pounding they have received from planes, field batteries and infantrymen in the Allied offensive.

At some other points, also, there was a slight withdrawal of enemy forces to more convenient or better-defended positions. However, the Germans are still far from cracking in their main endeavor. This is to hold their strong points in the Medjerda river valley and adjacent heights to prevent Allied tanks from getting through it into the fan-like plain of Tunis and thus bringing about the final debacle, which Gen. Henri Giraud said yesterday would come this month.

That the lull was only of brief duration was indicated, however, by Gen. Henri Giraud, French military and civilian commander, who predicted yesterday that "this month of May will see the complete defeat of the Boche in Tunisia."

Other headlines from the war: Far Pacific: Gen. Douglas MacArthur's aerial defenders suffer heavy losses in knocking down or damaging 13 Japanese aircraft from a fleet of 51 planes raiding Darwin, Australia. Spokesman discloses that Allied shipping losses, by percentage, from submarines are about the same as those in the African theater.

Russia: Communiqué announces Germans have abandoned Kuban bridgehead offensive after six days in which they lost 7,000 men; violent spring air battle flares.

Air front: RAF bomber-fighter force hits Iquidien steel center in Holland after Americans' four-engine bombers smash at St. Nazaire submarine nest Saturday.

"Our patrols were active and two local attacks made by the enemy were repulsed. Some prisoners were taken," said the communiqué from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters in its only mention of ground action in Tunisia.

The Allied air forces, too, were comparatively idle, the communiqué reporting only the steady patrol of Axis positions and their communication routes in which three enemy planes were shot down and two United Nations aircraft lost.

In the first phase of their Tunisian all-front offensive, the Allies had cut the front down from 140 miles to 125, and had driven to within 20 miles of Bizerte in the north and about 20 miles from Tunis in the central Medjed-el-Bah sector.

Meanwhile the Allied air and sea blockade of the bridgehead drew tighter as British motor torpedo boat flotillas were disclosed to have swept 100 miles of the enemy-held coast around Cap Bon, penetrating inlets and coves and even to the mouth of Tunis harbor itself.

A merchant ship was sunk in one daylight foray, two mine sweepers made useless, a big R-boats, or large motor torpedo boat, set on fire and aircraft blasted on the beaches by gunfire from the sea raiders, the Allied communiqué announced Sunday. One of the British boats was lost.

In the air war the Americans lost seven of their big bombers smashing at St. Nazaire Saturday because of a combination of bad weather which caused the formations to become separated and fierce German fighter opposition over one of the best-defended Nazi targets.

Other angles of the air war included the German announcement that raiders, presumably Russian, again struck sharply at east Prussia, and the disclosure in a Finnish communiqué of unusual aerial activity on that dormant front.

The RAF's mosquitoes also attacked the railroad shops at Thionville, center of the Lorraine iron ore and coal transport network.

Russian reports, while telling of no significant changes, indicated that the long eastern front was gradually returning to activity after the spring lull.

Meanwhile the Russian press, echoing the optimistic tone of Premier Stalin, continued to praise the war efforts of Britain and the United States in Africa and in the air and to forecast the opening of a second front in Europe.

NO EXTENSION OF AUTO PLATES HAS BEEN MADE
Harrisburg, May 3.—(P)—Gasoline and rubber rationing has brought a reduction of about 250,000 in the number of automobiles using the Pennsylvania highways. Approximately 1,750,000 license renewals were issued by the revenue department for the new licensing period beginning May 1 as compared to 2,006,868 for last year. The original deadline for old licenses was March 31 but was extended for 30 days. Both the revenue department and state police headquarters said today that no further extension of old license plates was contemplated.

PIPER AIRCRAFT PLANT AGAIN IN OPERATION
Lock Haven, May 3.—(P)—Striking employees of the Piper Aircraft Corporation returned to their jobs today, ending a week's stoppage of war production by some 2,000 employees. Kenneth A. Yeager, local union president of the International Association of Machinists (IAM), said "practically everybody is back to work and all departments are functioning in their proper manner," but emphasized the employees "are working under protest."

THREE DIE IN FLAMES; TWO OTHERS ESCAPE
McConnellsburg, May 3.—(P)—Three persons were burned fatally last night and two others escaped through a second floor window when a fire of undetermined origin destroyed their Fulton county farm home near here. Those who perished were Joseph Thomas, 51; his invalid mother, Mrs. Rebecca Thomas, 84, and his daughter, Martha, 7.

Casualties To Get Attention
New York, May 3.—(P)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt believes that America should prepare for "tremendous casualties" after the war and that "when they come back, the war will become reality to us."

Speaking to members of the Grady E. Club of Teachers College here last night Mrs. Roosevelt said:

"So few of us seem to realize the tremendous casualties we will have to absorb into our daily lives after the war. They will come back incapacitated and they must live, too. We must know how to make that possible."

Recruits Are Sought For Guard Unit

Starr and Newton

Word was received over the weekend that A. F. Dickinson, who has been in charge of the Warren unit of Co. B, 3rd Regiment, has been promoted to captain and that the regiment is to be recruited to full strength in Warren, Bradford and Kane. Captain Dickinson says that both Kane and Bradford have been increased to full strength but that about twenty men are needed in the Warren unit.

The local squadron will hold the weekly drill tomorrow evening, and all men, between the ages of 16 and 55, who may be interested in enlisting are urged to apply at that time.

The setup of the new battalion is along the same lines as the old organization. Drills will be held each Tuesday evening at the Armory. According to Captain Dickinson, ordnance was received Saturday for the full company.

Men interested in enlisting in the company who may be unable to report at the Armory may contact Captain Dickinson at his home, 215 Parker street.

The manager plan of civic government is used in 425 cities and six counties in the United States.

Quiet Enjoyed By Police Over Past Weekend

Police over the week end had fewer calls perhaps than for many weeks passed and there were none of them that proved much out of the ordinary. There was the usual squelching of arguments strated in places about the town by the folk who have indulged too well but not wisely; chasing of small boys under cover and one drunk fell into the drag net.

Chris Lawson, 19 Russell street making a left turn off Pennsylvania avenue with his Dodge was rammed into by Lawrence V. Holsey, R. D. 2 Ashabula, Ohio, says the police report. Damage of about $20 was done to the car and the insurance companies will negotiate the settlement.

Mrs. Harris, Hemlock road reports that her son, Roy, 14, is missing from his home. He disappeared Thursday and may have gone to Kane. He is 5 feet 2 inches in height and has light hair. Police located the lad in Kane.

An investigation was also made of the damaging of a parked car owned by Harold Clepper, Pennsylvania avenue, east. The machine suffered damaged fenders. Police have clues in the shape of parts of the car that hit the machine and there was green paint left on the Clepper car.

Hanson Heads Conference Coming Year

It is pleasing news to many in Warren and vicinity that Dr. Felix V. Hanson, of Jamestown, N. Y., has again been reelected president of the New York Conference, Augustana Synod of Lutheran churches.

The action was taken at the conference session on Friday in Jamestown. Among others renominated to office was Rev. Lawrence F. Nordstrom, of Jamestown.

Tentative plans were made for next year's gathering at Bethlehem Lutheran church in Brooklyn, N. Y., but definite announcement will have to be made later. The conference's allotment from the synod centennial thankoffering, which has a goal of $1,250,000 by 1945, was set at $117,150. The offering is preliminary to the synod centennial festival in 1948.

The Conference Women's Missionary Society elected to its presidency Mrs. E. S. Carlson, of Titusville, who as first vice president this year has been serving as acting president. Mrs. Carl Lundahl, of Warren, was reelected to the office of secretary of the women's group.

Wheeler (D-Mont) to ban further inductions into the armed forces this year of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers.

Wheeler has said he may offer this as an amendment to the Connally bill, since that measure is itself technically an amendment to the selective service act.

Hill said he would oppose the Wheeler proposal and other administration lieutenants said they were confident they could defeat it.

But Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he was considering offering the house-approved Kilday bill as a substitute for the Wheeler proposal and asking for a vote on that measure, which would revise the draft law to prevent the induction of fathers while single men in their states remain available.

New Process Employees Give Help in Drive

The work of the 2nd War Loan Drive in Warren county has been greatly facilitated by the efficient handling of the War Finance Committee office by executives loaned for this work by New Process Company. There is a vast amount of detailed work in planning the operation of such an office and preparing the supplies and materials for nearly 500 workers in the county, and afterward in keeping the detailed records of bond sales as these are turned in to the office daily. Likewise, daily reports have been made since the beginning of the drive to the office of the 2nd Area at Pittsburgh which is responsible for 16 counties in Western Pennsylvania and 6 in West Virginia under the headquarters at Cleveland for the Fourth Federal Reserve District embracing Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia.

All of this part of the work of the War Finance Committee has been directed by James R. Barrett, Executive Manager of the committee and Miss Mildred Kiernan, his assistant, and at the time of preparing workers' supplies, several other employees were also loaned to the committee by New Process Company.

The publicity and the newspaper advertisements in which local men in service were mentioned in advertising sponsored by their employers were handled by C. A. Pettibone, Department Head in Charge of Advertising at New Process Company. John L. Blair, president of the company, is chairman of the Industrial Committee in the 2nd War Loan Drive. Many other employees of the company have taken an active part in this work.

Two Awarded Eagle Scout Ranks Friday

Scout Forrest Bainbridge of the First Methodist Church Troop No. 9, Warren, and James King of Tidouche Troop No. 27 successfully completed the requirements for the rank of Eagle Scout, it was learned following the meeting of the advanced review board held at the local Boy Scout office on Friday evening. The badges will be presented at a meeting of the respective troop courts of honor within the next few weeks. In preparing his application for the award of eagle rank, Forrest Bainbridge indicated that he had joined Troop No. 9 as a Tenderfoot in January, 1939, became Second Class in April, 1939, First Class in September, 1941, Star in March, 1942, and Life Scout in September, 1942. He further indicated that he had earned the following merit badges which now entitled him to the rank of Eagle: First aid, life saving, personal health, public health, cooking, camping, civics, bird study, pathfinding, safety, pioneering, athletics, animal industry, automobilism, carpentry, fireman-ship, music, photography, plumbing, radio, rowing and swimming.

The Eagle application of Scout James King indicated that he had joined Troop No. 27 in Tidouche as a Tenderfoot in May, 1937, became Second Class in November, 1937, and First Class August, 1938. Star Scout in March, 1940, and Life Scout in September, 1940, and included the following merit badges: First aid, life saving, personal health, public health, cooking, camping, civics, bird study, pathfinding, safety, pioneering, athletics, animal industry, astronomy, business, carpentry, conservation, dairying, farm records, fireman-ship, forestry, hiking, scholarship, signaling, swimming, woodwork and finger printing.

J. E. Hazeltine served as chairman of the reviewing board and was assisted by C. A. Babcock, Lyle R. Briggs, B. H. White, George King, E. H. Cornish and Chester R. Seymour, Scout executive.

The exercises are to be held in Founders Hall of First Methodist church, beginning at eight o'clock, and 28 more women will become the proud possessors of Nurse's Aide caps.

Previous graduation exercises have been held in places that made it necessary to limit the number of guests invited. This time, however, there will be plenty of room for all who care to participate. The public is invited to be present and learn the remarkable work that has been accomplished by these women.

In these days of over-burdened hospitals, the helping hand of the Nurse's Aide is greatly appreciated. Women in many walks of life have already completed the required Nurse's Aide course and many Warren women proudly wear the cap they have acquired through long, hard hours of hospital work.

Nurses Aide Will Graduate Large Class

Various activities of the American Red Cross cover many fields of vital service and among these is one which will be given emphasis locally in graduation on Thursday night of this week of another class of Nurse's Aides.

The exercises are to be held in Founders Hall of First Methodist church, beginning at eight o'clock, and 28 more women will become the proud possessors of Nurse's Aide caps.

Scouts Show At Tidioute PTA Meeting

Three Boy Scout first aid teams of Troop 27 competed for standard rating as the members of the troop performed before the Tidioute PTA at their regular monthly meeting for April, it was learned today at the local Boy Scout office.

The PTA program was turned over to the Scouts, who demonstrated some of their Scouting skills and techniques along the lines of first aid and emergency service training.

The patrols and the ratings given them by the judges are as follows: Patrol No. 1, under the leadership of Karl Grettenberger, was given an average of 92%.

The three first aid problems they were given to solve. The members of the patrol are Douglas Hunter, Richard Daelhausen, Charles Turner, Jack Merkle.

The second patrol was under the leadership of Frank Frisina and included Roger Grettenberger, Jack McKown, John Atkin and Donald McLaughlin. The team's average was 95%.

The third team was given leadership by James King. Its average was 98% and it was composed of Scouts James Passauer, Raymond Billing, Roy McManigle and Gilbert Yeager.

The obstacle race was won by the patrol under the leadership of Karl Grettenberger. It took the team 45 seconds to complete the course.

The officials for the various contests were Lyle R. Briggs, chairman of the troop committee; George King, E. H. Cornish, Scoutmaster; C. Vance Weld and Chester R. Seymour.

TIMES TOPICS

HOOK AND LADDER

The Citizens Hook and Ladder Company will hold its regular session at eight o'clock this evening in the Central station.

SERIES OF GAMES

Service funds will again benefit on Wednesday evening when the VFW Auxiliary holds its regular series of games in the post rooms. The public is invited to share in the fun and aid this project.

MINISTERS TO MEET

Rev. Dwight Jack, of Youngsville, will be the speaker for the meeting of Warren County Ministers Association at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday at the YMCA. He will review the book "Planning of a Year's Pulpit Work."

LIONS TO MEET

Meeting at the YWCA activities building for luncheon tomorrow, Lions Club members will hear reports of their "early diagnosis" contact committee. Dates set tentatively for return of the X-raying equipment and technician are June 24-30.

TO PAY RESPECTS

Members of Warren Lodge No. 223, B. P. O. Elks, are asked to meet at the lodge home at 7:15 this evening to go to the Lutz Funeral Home to pay their respects to a departed brother, Don Keeler, who passed away in Kansas City, Mo.

PAYMENTS IN COUNTY

State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner has announced that 6,187 checks for unemployment compensation disbursements were issued by the state treasury during the week ending April 30, 1943. The total amount disbursed was $87,988.25, of which amount $101 came to Warren county.

COMMANDO MEETING

"Major" Lee Zeiders, in charge of East Side Junior Commandos, is calling a meeting at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Grace Methodist church of all members residing east of Crescent street and west of Parker street. He asks that every boy and girl in that section turn out at the above hour.

MADE FUTILE SEARCH

Raymond Norris and others yesterday made a futile trip to Tidioute in a motor boat searching for the body of the little Dickey Kline, who was drowned in the Allegheny river April 22. The men returned to Warren last evening after a day long hunt along the shores of the stream.

BOY IS REWARDED

Arnold Chase, aged about 12, who resides at 10 1/2 Elm street, is richer in financial possessions today and far richer in knowledge of a deed well done as the result of his finding over the weekend a lost purse containing a sizeable sum of money. It was returned to the owner and the lad rewarded for his honesty and promptness.

NURSES AIDES TO GRADUATE

The Red Cross Nurses Aide graduation exercises will be held at 8:00 o'clock Thursday evening in Founders Hall at the Methodist church. A new class of 28 Warren women will receive the honored Nurses Aide caps. This exercise is open to the public and all who are interested in this phase of Red Cross activity are urged to attend.

BEG YOUR PARDON

In Friday's news story about the women workers in the 2nd War Loan there was a typographical error which stated that there were 750 women working in the county committees. The correct number should have been 150, who obtained the 1163 War Bond purchases of approximately $111,000 up to April 28. The total number of women workers in the Block Leader Plan in the entire county is 373 and altogether, counting all workers on all committees, over 500 persons have participated in the work of the 2nd War Loan.

Warren Girl Candidate For B. A. Degree

Miss Louise Steber, daughter of Burgess and Mrs. Raymond W. Steber, West Fifth avenue, is among the 410 candidates for the degree of bachelor of arts from Smith College to be presented at the 65th commencement exercises on May 20.

Her major study in college has been American culture, a series of courses offered by different departments and dealing in every case with some aspect of life in the United States.

Miss Steber has been one of the students whose high scholastic standing has entitled her to a place on the Dean's List. She is a member of the International Relations Club and circulation manager of the Smith College Associated News (SCAN), the college newspaper.

During her sophomore year she was on the sophomore carnival committee and last year received the honor of being asked to usher at commencement. She has also served as vice president and social chairman of Ellen Emerson House, her college residence. Miss Steber prepared for college at Kent Place School in Summit, N. J.

Music Boosters Club Planning Their Third Annual Tag Day

The officers and ways and means committee of the Warren School Music Boosters' Club have plans just about completed for the third annual "tag day" on Saturday, May 8, and suggest to school patrons that their generous contribution to the school music fund will provide an excellent local observance of National Music Week.

Also an event of Music Week, which started Sunday and extends through next Sunday, will be the annual band and orchestra "thank you" concert to be presented in the Beaty school gym at eight o'clock Friday evening.

Admission to the concert will be by "tag" only and both patrons and regular tags may be had at the door. Further details of his plans will be announced soon by Director Harry A. Summers.

Workers are asked to be prepared to turn in their first reports on patron tags by Tuesday evening.

Details of the "tag day" are being handled by the club's ways and means committee of which Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Sires are chairmen. Their aides will be Mr. and Mrs. Don Folkman, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Basil White, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McCune, Mr. and Mrs. William Glassman, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hunter.

Report headquarters for the "tag day" are to be maintained in the storeroom in the Kirberger building that was formerly occupied by the Miller Drug Company store. Anyone missed in the street canvass, which will be conducted by the young school musicians, may secure a tag at that location.

Response to the two previous fund solicitations have been very generous and the School Music Boosters is looking forward to a successful sale on Saturday.

For the Wednesday meeting of the Senior Extension Club at Tordedo, C. P. Lang, in charge of that work in the state, will come from State College to discuss "Getting Along With People."

On Thursday, Mr. Lang will be a guest speaker for the quarterly session of Warren County Pomona Grange No. 10, presenting a topic suited to the observance of National Youth Week.

Old Guards meeting at the YMCA have invited Mr. Tritt to be their guest speaker on Friday afternoon.

Grandson Lost In Airplane Crash at Sea

Mrs. Ida P. McKain, 104 Eddy street, has had word that her grandson, Master Sgt. Charles W. McKain, of the U. S. Army Air Corps, lost his life in an airplane crash February 3 in the South Atlantic.

Official notification of his death came to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. McKain, 204 Lambert street, Franklin, who had been previously advised by the War Department that he was missing in action.

It is believed that Sgt. McKain, 22, served as crew chief aboard a ferry command plane which was forced down in the South Atlantic. Twenty-five men were aboard the plane when the crash occurred.

According to the official message, "exhaustive efforts have been made to locate the missing airplane and its occupants." It was further stated that carefully considered evidence led to the belief that Sgt. McKain met his death following the forced landing of the plane, but his body has not been recovered.

Sgt. McKain was born in Warren, Pa., May 26, 1921, and enlisted in the air corps on July 12, 1940. He has two brothers in the armed forces, Pvt. Henry P. McKain, Jr., now at the Parris Island, S. C., marine barracks, and Russell F. McKain, 17, who left for naval service a week ago today. Besides these, are three brothers at home: Wayne, 16; Lyle Richard, 10; and Larry Lee, 3.

Those having claims or demands against the same will present them to the undersigned, properly authenticated for settlement.

POST-WAR PLANS

(By DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press War Analyst)

President Roosevelt says that one of the things which impressed him on his twenty-state tour was the benefit in physical condition and mental alertness that men and women in service and war-workers uniforms have realized.

He thinks the camps and industrial plants ought to be put to good use after the war, possibly requiring the youth of America to give a year's service to the country. He has no specific program and expresses the view that any plan developed probably would be only partly military.

A lot of people, especially parents of boys under military age, have been doing a deal of thinking along that line lately. They're interested in the physical and mental training, and the character building, but it cuts deeper than that.

Despite the fact that their children may not be called for duty in the present conflict, these parents have reached the conclusion that they don't want their lads to have to go into some future war without thorough training. Of course, the hope is that there won't be any further wars, but if the present conflagration has taught us anything it is that security depends on preparedness.

Preparedness of the individual means security not only for him but for his country. Green troops which go into battle will suffer terrible casualties until they've learned the tricks of war in the hard and bloody way. And while they are learning, they may have lost the war to experienced forces.

The well-trained, well-armed man is the one who will live the longest. The well-trained, well-armed army is the one which will render the best defense of its country.

Having reached this conclusion, many parents are figuring on sending their young hopefuls to military academies as soon as they reach the age for preparatory schooling. With this education a young man would come up to his compulsory military service with a good background.

Think that's too hard-boiled? Well, it doesn't represent the ruminating of an arm-chair bachelor, for I have a small boy of my own, and I've seen plenty of war at first hand. I hate the bloody business but believe the common-sense way is to be prepared for it.

A generation ago compulsory military service didn't suit this democratic country. As a matter of fact we didn't need it, because we were safe behind our ocean barriers. But things have changed.

The other day the Royal Air Force announced that an aviator had made a record North Atlantic flight—a landfall-to-landfall trip from Newfoundland to the United Kingdom—in six hours and twenty minutes. When the ocean can be spanned that quickly, it means that the United States no longer enjoys the security of isolation.

We don't need to think of military training in terms of any such arduous and time consuming process as is seen in militaristic Germany. That represents an extreme which, of course, is abhorrent to us.

German boys serve in the Hitler youth movement between the ages of ten and eighteen. They then do three years compulsory military service, after which they are in the reserve for fourteen years and in the landwehr, or home defense, for nine years more.

The thing that has interested me most about the Nazi training has been that devoted to the youth movement. I was in Germany not long before the war and must admit that never have I seen finer physical specimens than one encountered in the teen age lads who were undergoing intensive exercise in the labor groups and other corps.

Heaven forbid that we emulate the boche, but after all they have demonstrated what physical training can do.

OVERWHELMED

Indianapolis raid wardens asked Washington for 7740 helmets. In August they received a shipment of 8340; later another 7740 came along; in February they got 3200 and in March 250. This totals 19,530 helmets for an inland city which has held only one test blackout.

In addition, Indianapolis has received 48,000 feet of fire hose—twice the quantity needed—without nozzles; 60 auxiliary pumps that can not be used because Washington will not approve fittings to connect them to fire hydrants; 240 ladders—twice the number needed—for which there are no trucks; and a few other things.

The End of His Rope

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Unless you are a soldier on one of the fighting fronts, I'll bet here's one publication you never heard of.

It's called Curly Caminita's Capital Roundup. The next-to-last word in the title is a misnomer for its covers everything from sports to literature. It has more than 80,000 readers and goodness knows how many listeners in Iceland, Ireland, England, North Africa, India, the Solomon Islands, Australia and several other places, not to mention scores of ships on the seven seas. Curly Caminita is a toiler in the petroleum administration. He's a little fellow with more brains than stature, a mop of coal black hair, and a keen desire to do his bit.

Last November, Curly got a letter from his friend, Lieut. (1st) Walter L. Rhinehart, from "Somewhere in North Africa." It asked, in effect, "Curly, how about writing me news that can be passed around among the boys?"

CURLY considered that a command. He wrote sports stuff, book stuff, theater stuff, gossip about big and little shots, movie news, and what he calls some "unadulterated corn"—like stories about Abbott and Costello, and Fred Allen. He thought of a few other men overseas who might like the column. Friends asked for copies that they could send in turn to their friends.

A few weeks later, another friend, Arthur Healy, an attorney in the customs and patents appeals court offices, dropped in on Caminita while he was working

Healy asked if he could help in the copying and mailing, and share the expense. Healy had been trying to get into the armed forces and couldn't. Caminita let him in on his strictly private enterprise. Aside from Healy, Mrs. Caminita and, part of the time, Evelyn Eller Rhinehart, wife of the naval lieutenant, there's no other "staff."

Now, the Roundup goes to more than 100 persons. Many are overseas, but some are persons here who forward copies to friends or relatives in far places.

ABOUT four months after his first issue, Curly began to get letters. He found that his Roundup column was being carried in service papers, planted in canteen libraries, quoted on service radio programs. A few weeks ago, a checkup showed that more than 80,000 men were reading all or quoted parts of the Roundup. Curly's fanmail would make a Hollywood star go green with envy.

The last copy of the Roundup was 13 single-spaced typed pages and there isn't thumb-space in the margins. The tagline is that Curly Caminita in a few weeks is going to war—drafted. His plans are to carry on the column with Mrs. Caminita and a government bacteriologist doing the publication. Putting out the Roundup requires from 20 to 30 hours a week and no little money. Some "angels" are suggesting providing the latter. It may be certain for one of the most amazing publications this war has produced.

Green Leaves of Cabbage Tribe Most Nutritious

The bleached leaves in a tight head of cabbage, as distinct from the green, outer leaves, have only half as much Vitamin A as the same portion of bleached head lettuce, which in turn has one-fortieth as much as leaf lettuce.

It does have a good supply of Vitamin B1, but this is less than half that in Brussels sprouts. Travelers to Great Britain bring back reports of how strongly the British rely upon Brussels sprouts; but are they foolish? Brussels sprouts which are like small cabbages but are green, have not only more vitamin B1 but twenty times the vitamin A that cabbage contains.

This points a lesson for the Victory gardener. Instead of cabbage, why not grow the green vegetables which have similar flavor, and get everything in the way of calories and minerals that cabbage supplies, plus precious vitamins?

Besides Brussels sprouts these cabbage cousins include collards and kale. Collards produce leaves which have the appearance of cabbage leaves, with a very slight cabbage flavor; but they are among the richest of all vegetables in vitamins. They are high in favor in the southern states. In the north a spring crop may be grown by starting seed indoors, or sowing it in the garden with the earliest crops, since this plant is perfectly hardy. Market growers in the north cut the first cluster of leaves that forms, while they are small and tender; and this ends the life of the plant.

If this cluster is left and the plant allowed to grow, it will reach several feet in height, and the leaves can be harvested by stripping the lower ones. Many consider that the flavor of collards is much improved by frost, and it will stand freezing weather for a considerable time in the fall, often being harvested as late as Christmas. It will serve well as a succession crop to an early vegetable, provided the seed can be sown by July 1. Brussels sprouts must be grown in the northern states as a fall crop. It takes three months to mature.

LESS TRAFFIC

Cumulative restrictions on passenger car use in the eastern states have cut traffic by 65 per cent from former levels. Of the reduction, 40 per cent was due to original rationing, 15 per cent to cuts in basic coupon values, and 10 per cent to the pleasure driving ban.

SHIPS AHEAD

United States shipbuilding is expected to attain the 1943 goal of 16,000,000 tons, unless a material shortage should develop.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1923
Road scrapers have been in use during the past few days putting the road from Clarendon to Warren in shape for the summer. The road is improving rapidly.

Peter Maza, of Endeavor, will be ordained in the church there and will become a full-fledged Presbyterian minister. Just where he will be located after his ordination is not known.

The request of the Department of Agriculture to extend the limits of the Allegheny National Forest by 269,000 acres has been granted and the purchase of additional land will begin soon.

Saturday members of Kossuth Encampment will journey to Sheffield, where they will exemplify the Golden Rule degree. A large number will make the trip and a fine time is anticipated.

Work of getting Warren county out of the mud will be under way soon. A road will be built from Russell to the New York state line; a road from Chandlers Valley to Sugar Grove will have dirt flying soon and the work will be finished in as rapid time as possible.

In 1933
The spring play of the Players Club, "Let Us Be Gay," which will be presented May 5, is progressing in fine shape. Sylvanus Davis is directing rehearsals and from all indications it will score a hit with the many who will see it.

A full train load of oil products from the Conewango Refinery has moved out to New York, where it will be loaded on a tanker and shipped to Europe.

Work of organizing Junior 4-H clubs in the county is now under way and several are being formed. The work is in charge of C. P. Lang, of State College.

The annual poppy sale of the FVW will be held May 20 and it is expected that hundreds of them will be sold in the city. The funds derived are used in care of disabled veterans.

The spring meeting of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Past Commanders and Line Officers will be held in this city May 5th. Details of the meeting are being arranged by Warren Commandery, No. 63.

Alabama has a total of 61,892 miles of roads.

PILE TORTURE RELIEVED

The maddening, itching, burning, stinging, the throbs, are lessened and often greatly relieved by using Antiseptic San-Cura Ointment.

T. J. Williams of Detroit writes, "Years ago, when I suffered greatly with itching piles, I used San-Cura and received such comfort I now want it for other uses. I enclose a money order for a large jar."

Majors Rejoice With Crowds Starting To Jam All Ball Parks

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Like the weather, the fans have turned their time to warm up to baseball this season, but yesterday they turned out in great throngs around the major leagues. The first full wave of doubleheaders scheduled at eight parks attracted a total attendance of 5,189 with New York having 1,086 at the Polo Grounds to see the Giants battle the Brooklyn Dodgers in a renewal of their crosstown feud.

All of this was pleasing to the managers, but will not keep some of them from experimenting with weekday games to see if they can attract more fans by varying the playing times.

At Cincinnati general manager Warren Giles of the Reds will start today's contest with the Pittsburgh Pirates at 11:30 a. m. to make it possible for night shift war-workers to attend. Tomorrow at Brooklyn the Dodgers' game with the Philadelphia Phillies will start at 5:30 p. m. to catch daytime workers.

Yesterday's big show provided plenty of baseball thrills—a mixed assortment of good pitching, good hitting and tight struggles.

The crowd in New York saw the Giants and Dodgers divide a doubleheader in which each game was decided by one run. The Dodgers took the first 3-2 to hike their winning streak to six games. Relief Pitcher Johnny Allen hit a double and a single to lead Brooklyn's offensive. The Giants bagged the nightcap 2-1 with Buster Maynard hitting a first-inning home run and bringing in New York's other run with a long fly in the second inning.

The St. Louis Cardinals swept a doubleheader from the Cincinnati Reds 7-6 and 6-3. Rookie Lou Klein drove in three runs to set the pace in the first game and Lefty Howie Pollet kept seven hits spaced to win the second session.

Pittsburgh cleaned up on the Chicago Cubs with a pair of whitewashes, 3-0 and 1-0, as Wally Herbert pitched a three-hitter and Bob Klinger a four-hitter. Both were tough for the Chicago hurlers to lose. Hiram Bithorn in the opener was scored upon for the first time in 17 2-3 innings and Richard (Kewpie) Barrett in the nightcap allowed only one hit—but it was a double by Vince DiMaggio and figured in the lone run of the game.

STRIKES TO SPARE

AT CONEWAGO CLUB

The Conewago Club bowling championship will be settled tomorrow night when the Ericksons, second half winners and defending champions, meet the first-half titlists, the Culbertsons, in a two-out-of-three, sudden-death final. The match will begin at 8 o'clock.

Friday night wound up the regular season, with the Trevenens taking three from the MacDonalds. Tim Creal slung his second 600 series in as many matches to help the Trevenens and assure himself of top money in the six-game sweepstakes. Doc Robertson, the league's top-ranking pinster, came out of his slump with a crashing 629. With two of their opponents in the 600 bracket, the MacDonalds took only the first game and that by a nine-pin decision. "P. C." himself had 630, with Judge Wade contributing a 623 and Art Langdon a 517.

AT THE ELKS

The "hot dogs" of the Texas Lunch Elks team, potential grabbers for the season's highest stakes, lived up to their name Friday night, sizzling through the Turner Radios for two straight games and winding up with one of the best counts recorded as yet in the race with 932-943. The Style Shop also put up their best fronts on the alternate slides with another two-pointer and the right to meet the bandogs by crashing through into the limelight with a hard-to-handle cop from the Times Square five. In the first mentioned, Barney Malone proved it "up to the Irish" by taking his blasting tools and blowing the pins down for 201 and looking better as he went along, while Gene Fraring's 194 singled out and Sam Gerard's 199 helped no end in victory. The Style Shop, out for "front, center" at the bowling banquet, also had the up and down bowling of Harry Christensen, John Smallman, D. Hogan and N. Woodruff, all slipping over counts at different times to bring the clothiers into the win. "Ol' Master" Christensen kept his outfit alive with 210 for high, while George Faul came through in a good try for the gas-dolers with 220-147.

AT THE MOOSE

Diminutive Johnny Waples and J. Rigley had a lane match of their own on the Moose slides Friday night and Rigley paced the Millies Inn with 549 against Johnny's 533 to nab four points from the Soda Mineral. The soft drinks were slow in support and lost a couple of close ones with only Waples to carry the banners and distance while the winners only collected 2381 for their trouble. Cliff Christensen led the Henderson Lunch outfit against the Valentines with a smashing 590 and lunch dolers handed in 2511 pins for high total of the night and Jim Thomas brought up the high one for the losers with 535.

A Pat for the Champ

Mrs. John Hertz, owner of Count Fleet, pats the champion after he lived up to her expectations and duplicated the feat of his daddy, Reigh Count, Kentucky Derby winner 15 years ago.

"FLEET" MAY BE SIXTH TO MAKE TRIPLE

Louisville, Ky., May 3.—(P)—Count Fleet, fresh from his easy triumph in the 69th Kentucky Derby, was on his way to Baltimore today for a shot at the Preakness next Saturday.

The Count had little trouble picking up $60,725 in winning by three lengths over second place Blue Swords and by 36 lengths over the battered Burnt Cork, kicking along in the rear of the field of ten.

The Count now looms capable of becoming the sixth horse in all racing history to grab off the highly prized "triple crown" of Derby, Preakness and Belmont. That is, he's a shoo-in unless Ocean Wave, withdrawn from the Derby and Preakness because of a wrenched joint between the foot and the ankle of his left foreleg, gets back in time to tangle with him in the third—and longest—jewel in the crown—the mile-and-a-half Belmont next month.

Those the Fleet had to sail past Saturday in the milk-wagon time of 2:04, to reward the crowd estimated at 60,000 who knocked him down to 2 to 5 in the mutuels, just aren't good enough to make him mope his hair. He'll take on two of them—Blue Swords and Slide Rule—again next Saturday, and probably a few more eastern "guys named Joe" and if he doesn't run over them once more, then there's blue grass on Broadway.

Whirlaway was the last triple-crown kid, two years ago, and it is in comparison with Whirlay that some race followers are pooh-poohing the Count and the talk that he's the greatest since Man o' War. Whirlay ran the Derby mile and a quarter in 2:01 2-5, after clicking off the mile in 1:37 2-5. The Hertz Hurricane was supposed to come within shouting distance of that Saturday, but the best he could do was 2:04 after a snappy 1:37 3-5 mile, indicating he might be inclined toward the "slows" in the stretch of a long wait.

Covering the Sports Front

—WITH—
BOB JOHNSON

Baseball, getting the bum's rust in most parts from the spotty showing of fans and in some cases from the "dead" balata-baloney ball, breathes in spasmodic attempts in our community.

Right at this point it's at a low ebb and ol' man weather isn't doing pushers justice with his brilliant array of tricks, although there are elements holding back the green light.

Seems at least one former strongarm of the diamond for Warren folded up his bags and called it quits, and not because there is anything hope for the game, but because his own personal grudges are giving his cranium. All of which will eventually be ironed out, but which at the moment calls a halt to immediate action.

For the hundreds of odds and ends needed to be cleared up at this time, the eventual flourish of the game seems a long way off, but at a ball 1943 style or back to the 1942 version, taps hasn't been used for Warren's hopes, even if it looks like the dark ages right at the moment. You'll be seeing practice sessions taking place in a few days and then we'll really be on the way.

Joe Waples, top-notch cage caller of the town, has submitted his me for umpire in the Sunset League this season. If he knows his me on the diamond as well as afoot the hardwood, he'll do all right. yway, he'll sport a mask behind the plate and the Rock Cleaners n't in the league ... Art McKeehan has just returned after a lengthy furlough to a western training camp. He spends a lot of time cutting machine guns and passing the ammunition and if he can give with any fascimile of the razzle-dazzle he made famous with the rren Dragons on the championship '38 team, you can bet his mates the stuff on time. If he had "Tink" Wolfe taking it from him, body would worry any more.

Just received a letter from "Mike" Russo, who gained plenty of me in the State of Pa. a few years back by swimming to Pittsburgh in Warren, (not to mention his boxing abilities. He's stationed in shington (the state) after entering the service with hopes of arriving the sunny south for one of those beautiful tan he craves. Well, we nk he should have had enough heat after trying to paddle the length Chautauqua Lake with a coating of "hot stuff" in early May.

A Woman Cop Who Can Really Shoot

BEING able to shoot it out with the best of them on pistol and rifle range, acting as head of a woman's industrial police force, and rearing three small children, are the highly varied activities of Mary A. Locke, chief of policewomen at The Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia. She has qualified as one of the best women shots in the United States, having shot in open competition with U. S. Marines at their base at Quantico, Va., and against U. S. Navy sharpshooters at Pensacola, Fla. Her husband is a former Marine lieutenant.

Chief Locke's force directs traffic and guards entrances to the shops where Baldwin is engaged 100 per cent in war production.

HORSE PRAIRIE BY CLEM COLT

Chapter 24

ALL was confusion at the top of the divide. Curses and shrieks resounded wildly, mingling with the crashing echoes of saddle guns. Hoarse yells tangled with choking screams; and then, like magic, all the riders had gone.

Tubac sprang to his feet and re-joined Winch Face who was already, nervously, up in his saddle and anxious to be gone. "I got an idea buzzin' around in my head that I reckon you'll be some interested in. I think I know where that gopher's headin' for. There's an abandoned mine up this way that used to be right much of a diggin's five-six years ago. It's up by Black Point, not four-five miles from where we are now. Be a first rate place to hole up a prisoner; an' I betcha that's where he's takin' her."

But there weren't any horse tracks, nor any horses, showing when they reached the mouth of the old Black Point diggings.

"That don't mean nothin'," Winch Face muttered. "Natch'ly he'd hev enough savvy 't rub out his tracks. There's a cavern, just inside a ways, where they could leave the horses. I'm bettin' we'll find 'em in there, too!"

And so it proved. They were looking over the sweaty broncs when three shots rang out so nearly instantaneous as to seem one monster roar of sound. Winch Face dove for the side of the cavern to get himself out of line with the entrance. But Tubac fired from his hip at the flash. At once a shriek joined the gyrating echoes and Jones went instantly dashing forward to make sure the man wasn't shamming.

He wasn't. It was Carlin. He was very dead.

WINCH FACE was already off exploring and his voice, a moment later, came back on a sudden shout. "There's a door back here in the tunnel wall—padlocked, too!"

Tubac, hurrying up, struck a match. The door was a stout affair bound with strap iron and heavy bolts.

"Here y'are!" Winch Face panted up with a pick and Tubac, taking it, stepped back and swung at the door with all his strength. But the plank must have been extra thick. The pick point was embedded in the door but the door didn't show any cracks.

"Well, here's for it," Tubac growled, dragging out his six shooter. "If them lobos've been sneakin' after us I reckon they'll hev to hear it. We got to be ettin' outa here before them megarons trap us, here. Go fetch our horses in an' pick yourself a place on the tailfin's where you can keep an eye on the trail leadin' up here."

Tubac put the muzzle of his gun to the padlock and fired. The lock fell apart and he vanked the heavy door open.

Sue's glad cry he had expected, but never for a moment had he thought to find Blackwater here. With an arm around Sue's shak- ing shoulders he sheathed his gun and shook Blackwater's silently trust-forward hand.

"I figure, they'd killed you sure!"

Bill grinned in his quiet gambler's way. "They aimed to—just hadn't got around to it proper. There were a few little legalities they wanted me to fix up for them before they put a bullet through me."

"We got to be gettin' outa here," Tubac broke in, suddenly remembering the gang he'd driven to cover. They'd be gettin' pretty close by now; not for a second had he thought to have discouraged their pursuit but for the moment, "If they've so much as hurt one hair of your head," he told Sue Lambert, "I'll—"

Winch Face's shout drifted in. "They're a-comin'! An' brother, they are comin' fast!"

They rushed to the tunnel entrance, crowded up behind Winch Face where he lay behind the mine dump. They were trapped. The Stampede crowd was down below and every trail was blocked.

Sue looked and her face went white. She choked back the scream that rose to her lips. Lot Deckerman's bull voice shouted: "If you fellas will give up peaceful—"

"Come an' get us!"

"I can do that, too," declared Deckerman. "This's your last chance, boys. We got dynamite down here an' I'd jest as lief use it as not."

"Go ahead then," Tubac cried. Honey Hair touched him nervously. "He'll kill us—Oh, Tubac! I'm so frightened. Don't you think perhaps we had better give up—"

"Couldn't you tinsyde! He'd kill us anyway if he got the chance. Only one thing 't do with skunks of his stripe—fight 'em to the last dang toenail!"

JONES and Winch Face each grabbed a rifle. "Our trouble's goin' to be bullets," Tubac muttered. "Couldn't you scout up some cartridges, Bill?"

"All we've got is—" The rest was lost in the crash of Winch Face's firing. The battle commenced in earnest.

Presently Blackwater Bill called Tubac aside. "They're getting closer, son. How long you reckon we can keep 'em off?"

Tubac scowled. "Not much longer I wish," he said, scowling morosely. "There was some other way of gettin' outa this mess—"

"Well, there is," Blackwater mentioned. "I've heard Potter and Carlin talk of it, but the trouble is we'd have to expose ourselves to reach it—to reach the start of it, I mean."

"Yeah, an' someone'd have to stay behind to keep them devils from swarmin' up here an' seein' what we was up to."

"I would deem it an honor to play that part."

"What do you take me for?" Tubac snarled. "If anyone's goin' to—"

Winch Face cried: "Them lobos is clearin' out! What d'you reckon they're up to?"

Jones and Blackwater rushed to the rim for a look. Deckerman's crowd did seem to be leaving. They were slithering back through the brush toward their horses, and even as Tubac looked several of them got into their saddles and spurred away. "It's a trick!"

"Wait—what's that?" demanded Blackwater pointing. "Looks like . . . I swear it is! It's the Stampede ranch buildings! Someone's set them afire!"

"C'mon," Tubac muttered. "Now's our chance to make for that tra!"

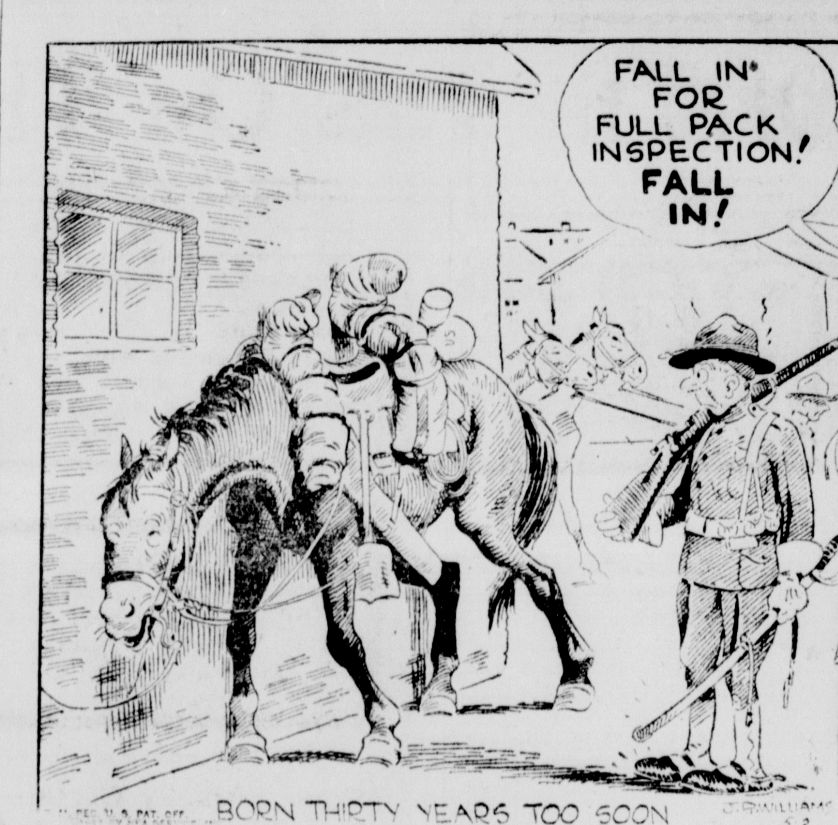

"There it is," pointed Blackwater, a few moments later. "Pretty steep. You reckon your young lady can make it?"

"Of course!" cried Tubac with a rough man's scorn, assumed, perhaps, to cover his embarrassment at hearing Sue described in such fashion. "Lead on—"

"Quick!" Winch Face bellowed. "That crew's comin' back!"
